Shabbat of comfort following Tisha B'Av. We read the words of the prophet Yeshayahu: "Comfort, comfort My people," beginning seven weeks of hopeful Haftarat leading toward Rosh Hashanah.

Building Update

We are excited to share that work on the new building is continuing. The team is beginning the process of clearing and safely removing the asbestos in preparation for demolition.

We look forward to sharing additional progress as we move closer to the next stage of construction.

The Riddle

The more you take, the more you leave behind.

What am I?

In Parashat Va'etchanan, Moshe continues his final message to the Jewish people. He recalls receiving the Torah at Har Sinai and repeats the Ten Commandments. The parasha also contains the first paragraph of the Shema: "Hear, O Israel, Hashem is our God, Hashem is One."

Moshe reminds the Jewish people to love Hashem, study and teach the Torah, and never forget the miracles and kindness Hashem showed them. This Shabbat is also known as Shabbat Nachamu, the
